Third World's Series Game Goes Extra Innings

The third world series game was forced into extra innings when after trailing all the way, the Detroit Tigers went on a scoring spree in their half of the eighth and tied the score at 5 all at the end of the ninth. The game was forced to eleven innings, the Tigers getting Marvin Owen across the plate in their half of the eleventh, and holding the Cubs scoreless. This makes the series now Tigers 2, Cubs 1. They will play again tomorrow in Chicago, the windy city.

NEWS NOTES

This kind of weather is unbeatable. Still warm days and cool nights. Only our part of Alberta seems to have such weather.

Theodore Ehler was busy part of this week on brick work at the new Texaco Station. This is going to be a real beauty spot on this busy corner of town.

The High School initiated some of the Freshies in a ceremony on Broadway Monday night which was accompanied by a great deal of noise and commotion.

Mrs. T. J. O'Brien left Thursday morning for Lloydminster, Saskatchewan, for an extended visit with her son George, and family.

$1,617 were raised in the first day of the Y.M.C.A. drive in Lethbridge this week. Officials of the campaign are jubilant over this success.

Miss Hazel Allan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Allan left Thursday for an indefinite visit with her grandmother, Mrs. T. H. Gould, at Wefaskiwin, Alberta.

Unemployed camps capable of caring for 4,500 single jobless in Alberta for the coming winter will be kept open, with a well-planned program of highway construction and public works carried out.

Latest news dispatches state that the Provincial Government have given up the idea of using the School of Agriculture for a Mental Hospital, and that instead a new dormitory will be built in connection with the present institution at Oliver. This will be good news to those who were opposed to the suggestion.

WEDDING BELLS

BIGELOW — DICKSON

The wedding of Miss Helen Audrey Dickson of Waterton Park and Keith Bigelow of Cardston, was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Woolf, Raymond, last Friday evening, with Bishop Walker officiating.

Only the immediate relatives and friends of the parties were present, including Mrs. T. M. Carlson, Cardston, grandmother of the groom, and Mrs. Silas Dickson of Waterton Park, mother of the bride. The young couple will make their home in Raymond for the time being at least, and they have the best wishes of their many friends and acquaintances for a long and happy married life.

HICKEN — HILLSTROM

Word has been received by the family here that Bennie Hicken, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hicken, who is attending University in Salt Lake City, will be married on Saturday, October 5th, to Miss F. Angeline Hillstrom of Salt Lake City.

Details of the plans were not divulged. Bennie's many friends in Raymond and Southern Alberta will be pleased to hear of his marriage, and will wish the newlyweds much joy and happiness in their married life.

Saturday was nearly a perfect day. Nice and warm and no wind.

F. P. Miller and several Magrath people were Raymond visitors Monday.

Cyril Hlvacka, now of Calgary, formerly of the Star Meat Market, was a visitor in Raymond the first part of the week.

New pulp in the pit, the feeding of stock will be the order of the day again soon. This seems to supplement nearly any kind of feed very well.

Don H. Bark, recently appointed Manager of the Lethbridge C.P.R. Irrigation system is dead following a motor collision in Montana last Tuesday. The funeral was held in Calgary the end of last week. He was an able official and well liked, and his passing will be widely mourned.

England is calling for tenders for the building of 21 new vessels to replace those whose days of economic service are over. This is in accordance with the terms of armament agreements amongst the world powers, and will cover the program for the next five years or so.

Mrs. Catherine Pillin known to everyone as "Grandma Pillin" passed away at home in Cardston early Wednesday morning after a long siege of illness during much of which she has been entirely blind. She has been uncomplicated during her sickness as she was throughout her entire life. When Southern Alberta was being colonized she and her husband entertained a lot of travellers at their home on the St. Mary's River below Kimball. Funeral services are being held today, and a number of local people, friends of the family are attending.

Leland Nalder Meets Accidental Death At Sugar Factory

Raymond and district was shocked Friday morning as news spread of the sad and sudden death of Leland, 19 year old son of Mrs. Bonnie Nalder, and one of the most popular young men of the community, who met death at 6:45 this morning at the Sugar Factory when he became entangled in the beet piler, and was crushed to death almost instantly.

As near as the story of the accident can be pieced together Leland was helping with the taring of the beets, and was over the hopper, loosening some more dirt, when the machine was started, dragging him into the rollers which shake and clean the beets. Ed. Gunn, who was on top working with Leland, heard him scream, and signalled Lloyd Oler, who was operating the machine to shut off the power, but too late to save Leland, who was dragged into the machine and his body badly mangled.

The remains were kept at the Factory until the coroner and his jury had viewed them and were then taken to Lethbridge to be prepared for burial.

From what can be learned there was no negligence or neglect on the part of any person, the accident happening as they sometimes do in the pursuit of the ordinary labors of the day. The starting of the machine was part of returning the dirt back to the grove for weighing, and the operator had received his signal to start the belt.

Needless to say the entire community was shocked, and the deepest sympathy is extended to the bereaved mother and younger brother in the grief which they have sustained. Leland was a popular member of the High School Basketball team and Student body, and will be greatly missed in these spheres of action.

Funeral services have not been announced as yet, but may be before we go to press.

WARREN PORTER LEASES
SUGAR CITY MOTORS

Warren Porter, formerly of Medicine Hat, has leased the Sugar City Motors from the North Star Oil, and is operating an up-to-date Service Station and Garage there.

Mr. Porter took possession on Tuesday, October 1st, and intends having the building renovated and the signs repainted. A skilled mechanic will be in charge of the repair department, so that motorists will find a complete and satisfactory service for them at this Station.

Mr. Porter has had considerable experience in this kind of work and comes here highly recommended and prepared to give the public of Raymond and district the best possible in automotive service, with all its implies.

PREMIER ANNOUNCES
PROSPERITY BOND ISSUE

Alberta Government to Make
New Issue in Near Future—
Small Denominations Included

Edmonton, Sept. 30—Prosperity bonds will be sold to the citizens of Alberta, possibly over the counter, Premier Aberhart announced last week.

The amount of the initial issue which the government hopes to offer before Christmas has not yet been determined, but it will be designed to take care of the province's maturing obligations during the next five years. The bonds possibly will be sold "direct" with the government acting as its own broker.

In following this policy, the government hopes to clear away Alberta's public debt of about $150,000,000 within the next ten years.

The prosperity bonds will be for small denominations, possibly as low as $10 and $25, and for long terms such as ten year.

"We have had several letters asking for opportunities of investment to assist the Social Credit government," the premier stated.

"It is the intention of the government to offer at an early date prosperity bonds to our own citizens, so that we may refund the bonds held outside the province and thereby increase the purchasing power within our own borders."

"This has nothing to do with the payment of basic dividends but merely to take steps toward establishing prosperity in the face of debts created in the past."

"It is believed that with prosperity established we can settle the debts of the province from ten to fifteen years."

"As recovery goes on, the bonds will become gilt-edged security. It is our purpose to try and hold them within the province and help to improve local conditions."—Red Deer Advertiser.

Howard Melchin was a Lethbridge visitor on Thursday.

The Canadian Utilities have been setting a number of new poles up and down the Main Street, and changing the power connections of a number of the business blocks.

L. J. McHew was busy on Monday moving into his new shop, so that the North Star Oil Co. could commence changes and renovation of the Sugar City Motors so they can get their Service Station and Garage into operation.

Only a handful of people attended the Liberal Rally held here Wednesday evening last, but a good meeting was held and those present listened with interest to the messages of the speakers. The beet digging season makes it a very busy season, and by the time growers have spent the daylight hours in the field they do not feel much like attending meetings.

Speakers at the meeting were L. E. Fairbairn, the Candidate, Senator W. A. Buchanan, Roy Risinger of New Dayton and D. O. Wight of Cardston, who dealt in a clear and comprehensive manner with the issues of the day and kept the crowd interested for a little over 2 hours.

WAR IN EUROPE

After months of diplomatic negotiations and bickerings, and threats from Italian officials, regarding colony problems in East Africa war was declared Thursday morning early between Ethiopia and Italy, and the first clashes between regular forces of the two countries occurred Thursday with losses on both sides.

There has been a report made that Japan has allied herself with Ethiopia, and the question in everyone's mind is whether or not any of the great nations will be able to keep out of the conflict, provided it is not halted immediately.

For weeks the League of Nations Council has endeavored to settle the differences between the two countries by diplomatic negotiations, and whether from fear of the final outcome, or some other reasons, Britain and France particularly have been unceasing in their efforts to find a solution to the situation. Their efforts, however, have been unavailing and a state of open warfare exists between the two above mentioned countries.

Colonies of Britain are situated in Africa, not far distant from the scene of disturbances.

France has financial interests there, and practically the whole world is vitally affected regarding its shipping by the Mediterranean Sea and the Suez Canal. In the 1930 federal contest, there 24,119 spoiled ballots, and in spite of all the publicity which will be given from now on, it is almost a safe bet that the number will not be much less during the 1935 contest. It should be kept in mind by those who realize, while in the polling booth, that they have ruined their ballot by having erroneously placed their mark, or having placed a wrong mark, application for a new ballot paper should be made immediately to the Returning Officer for a new one.

Remember to mark X on your federal ballot.—Drunbell, or Mail.

Mrs. Blinder: "Is there any difference, Thomas, between a fort and a fortress?"
Mr. Blinder: "I should imagine my dear, that fortress would be more difficult to silence."

CAUGHT NAPPING

Hostess (gushingly): "You know I've had a great deal about you."
Politician (absently): "Possibly, but you can't prove anything."

MARKING THE FEDERAL BALLOT

The method used by some of the many who spoiled their provincial ballots on August 22, should be adhered to in the federal ballot, October 14, when the use of a cross (x) is the correct procedure.

Placing an X beside the name of the candidate of one's choice is a simple procedure—in fact the simplest form of marking a ballot, yet, with confusion in the minds of some, since using the preferential and transferable

One surprise occurred in nominal interest in the World Series in Lethbridge on Monday games has been quite keen, and day, when A. C. Virtue, barrister, several pools on scores of the ter filed his papers as a St. Lawrence candidate. It was an eleven-hour move, and was almost entirely unexpected.

THE EXPLANATION

Bibbs—"I believe in early rising. Don't you?"
Cobb—"Well, there is no abstract excellence in early rising on what you do after you rise. It would be better for the world if some people never got up!"
Mayor: "I never saw the park littered so with paper as it is this morning. How do you account for it?"
Superintendent: "The park commissioner had leaflets distributed yesterday asking the people not to throw waste paper about."

WEEKLY LETTER

The Station root cellar is a point of interest at this season of the year. Carrots, beets and parsnips found in the cellar are buried in moist sand to keep them fresh and the cabbages are stored on shelves in single layers to allow free circulation of air around each head. None of the squash, pumpkin or onions are stored in the root cellar since these all need a higher temperature and perhaps drier air for winter keeping. Part of last year's crop of these vegetables were stored near the furnace room in the basement of one of the farm houses and the balance in the attic directly above the kitchen stove of another. Where a large crop of onions must be handled it is necessary to provide special drying space in an attic or barn, but small lots can be tied up in bunches and hung from the ceiling.

It is the practice at the Station to raise our own vegetable seed with biennial plants such as roots, cabbage, etc. The best plants are selected and preserved until spring when they are set out in the garden for seed production.

Celery will be harvested about September 30 and repanted in moist sandy soil in the cellar. The celery plants reach a high degree of quality and yield a fresh vegetable that is greatly appreciated during winter months. The plants are set in rows 6 inches apart and 4 inches apart in the row to allow for ventilation and to provide for watering the roots without wetting the tops of the plants. Rotting of the heart in storage is induced by the lack of ventilation too warm a cellar, and by the plants being watered from the top.

Potatoes are later than usual in ripening this year, and many fields will not be quite ripe when harvest comes. Potatoes that are not fully ripe at the time of harvest, at the Experimental Station, are placed in a pile outside and covered with 6 to 8 inches of potato straw and this covering sealed over with a few inches of soil. An inverted "V" trough, made by nailing two boards together is laid on top of the potatoes with the ends exposed to furnish ventilation. The openings of the ventilator are closed if severe frost is threatening. The potatoes are left in this outside pit for 10 to 14 days to go through the "Sweat" before being placed in the winter cellar.

Fall work in The Irrigated Garden

The gardener's greatest concern in preparing his garden in the fall is to get the land manured and ploughed before freeze-up, since a liberal application of well-rotted manure ploughed under in the fall is considered of the utmost importance in the preparation of an irrigated garden soil or any garden for that matter where the land is not summer-fallowed. Our irrigated land especially needs to be fall ploughed. The artificial application of water causes a certain degree of lumpiness that can be most effectively overcome by fall ploughing and exposing these lumps to the action of winter freezing and thawing. Moreover, manure has been found most effective when applied and ploughed under in the fall. This does not apply to dry land garden, since at this Station the land used for dry land garden work is summer-fallowed every other year. The manure for the dry land garden is applied usually during the winter before the rush of spring work starts and is turned under when the land is summer-fallowed early in June. Only very well-rotted manure is used on the dry land.

HEALTH

by
The Canadian Medical Association and Life Insurance Companies

MEDICINE CABINET

One of the most neglected corners in the home is the "medicine cabinet." It is often a resting place for partially used medicine, useless drugs and samples sent by post, to say nothing of toilet articles and various odds and ends.

This collection of bottles and boxes may have grown out of someone's sense of thrift, the idea being that the various items might be useful some day. It may seem to be a waste to destroy all unused medicine at the end of an illness, but that is just what should be done.

Drugs, if they are to be of any real value, must be prescribed by someone who knows the nature of the complaint for which treatment is required and the effects of drugs upon the human body. The idea of giving some leftover medicine to someone because the medicine seemed to be good for some body else is obviously all wrong.

Most medicines deteriorate and lose their potency when allowed to stand. No one who knows anything about drugs would rely upon some mixture or pills which had been standing around for months or years.

Many medicine cabinets are a real danger because in them will be found powerful poisons. Seldom is there any reason for keeping these, but if they are kept, they should be in a locked box or cupboard with the key well out of the reach of children. Also everything in the cupboard should be so labelled as to avoid any mistake regarding their contents. Do not keep poisons in the medicine cabinet.

Only a few drugs and other supplies should be kept on hand. Ask your family doctor the next time he is in your home, to tell you what you should have. At the same time get him to write out for you simple instructions in the use of whatever is to be kept in the medicine cabinet.

A great deal more harm is done by well-meaning but medically ignorant people who feel that something must be done than results from doing nothing. The properly-trained first-aid worker saves many lives because he knows what to do and what not to do. If you are not trained, it is better, on the whole, not to do anything but obviously you should learn what to do for burns or when some one faints and so on. Learn how to help in the right way; any other way is not help.

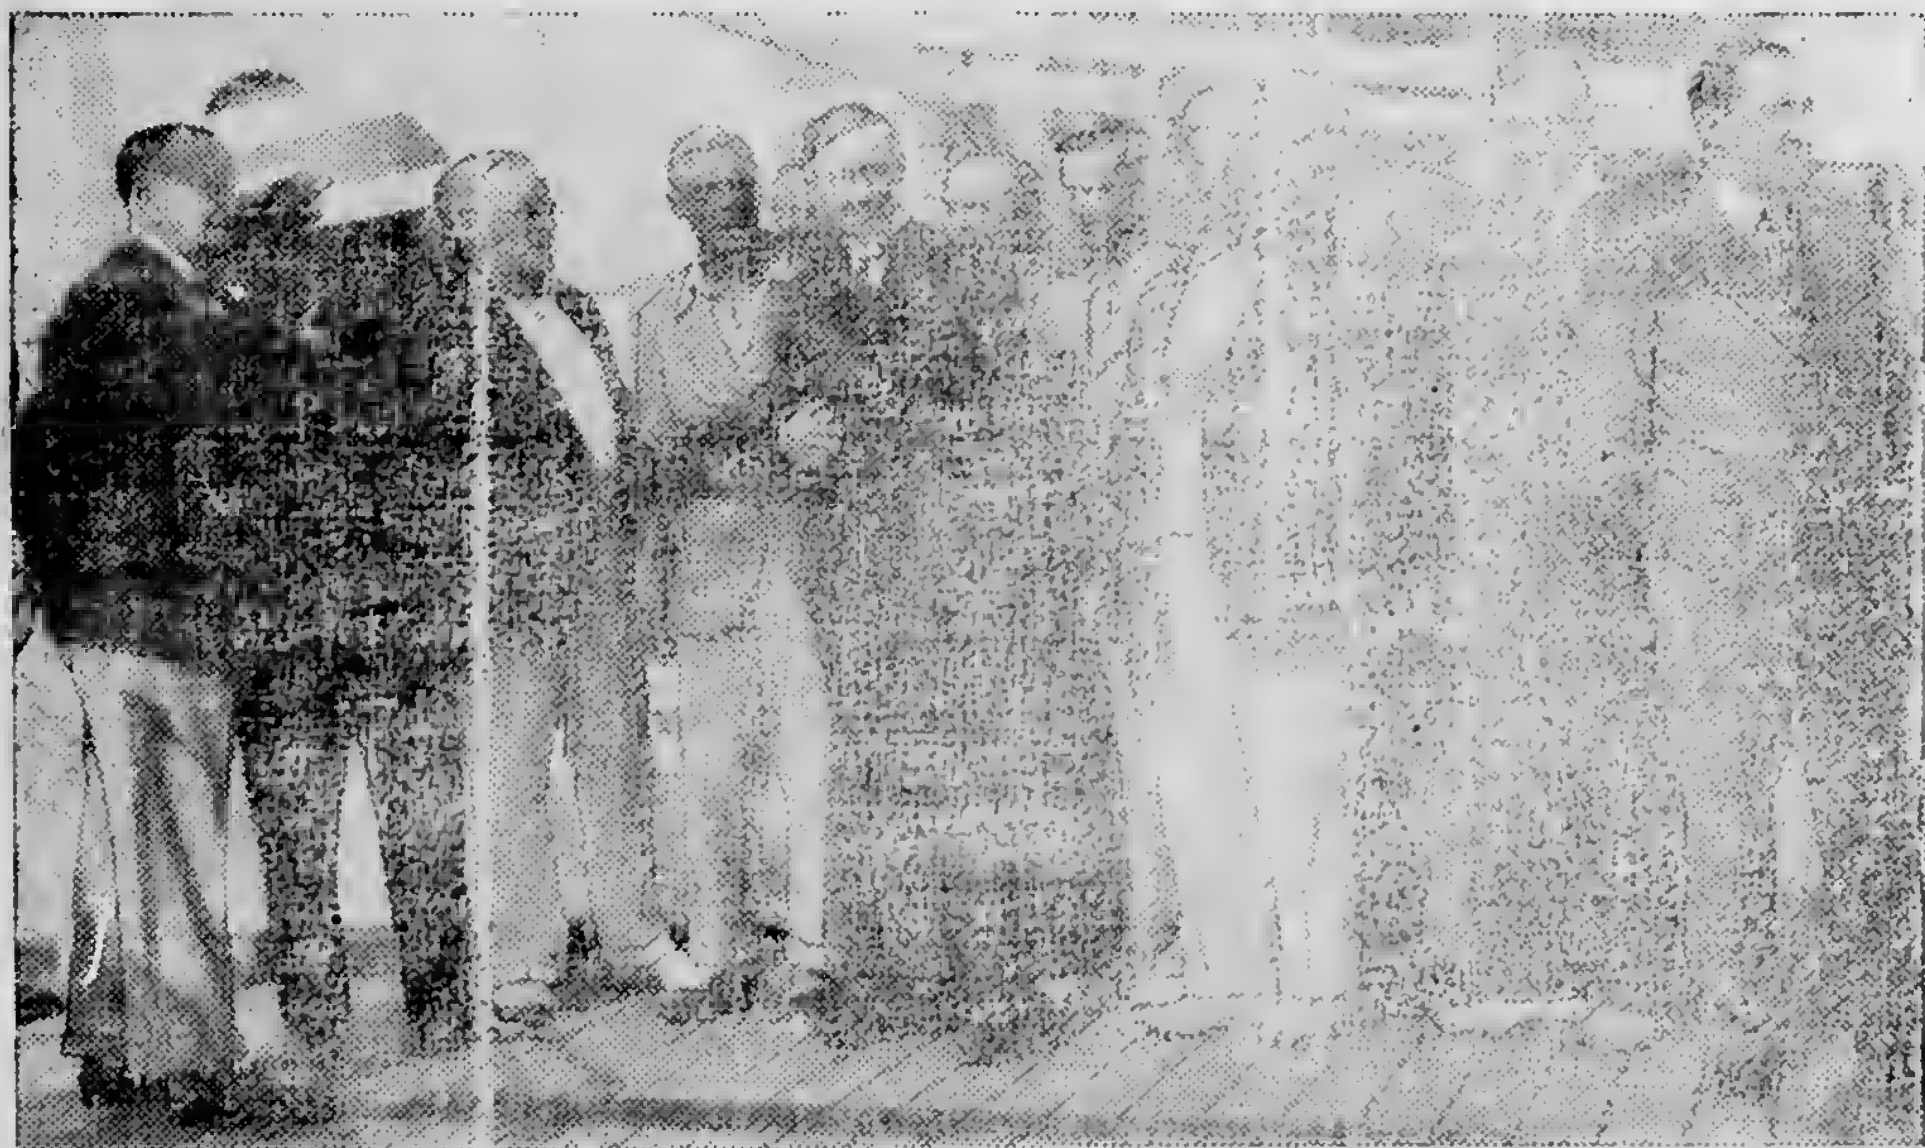

Questions concerning health, addressed to the Canadian Medical Association, 184 College St. Toronto, will be answered personally by letter.

C. E. Alired left Wednesday to attend Conference and visit in Salt Lake City and other Utah points.

On the declaration of war between Italy and Ethiopia wheat advanced 3 cents, and this even before official declarations were made. The markets will likely be rather erratic for some time now.

In the first game of the World Series Wednesday, the Cubs beat the Detroit Tigers 2-0. Out side of these two scores by Chicago in the first it was an eight game, and Lou Warlick for the Cubs and School boy Rowe for the Tigers pitched great ball.

British Educationists Tour Canada

In Canada for a seven weeks tour as guests of the National Council of Education, twelve British Directors of Education are at present touring the Dominion. The visit has been arranged to celebrate the 25th Anniversary of the Overseas Education League, which organizes annual visits of Canadian students and teachers to Great Britain, and is a return of the hospitality extended by British educators to the Canadian visitors.

The British group arrived at Quebec in the Canadian Pacific liner "Empress of Australia", September 4, and their spokesman stated they hoped to "earn quite a bit while in Canada". Photograph shows commencement of the educational process with Captain Arthur Rothwell, Commander of the Empress of Australia, as the Dominion. He is pointing out scenic beauties of the St. Lawrence river.

The party's itinerary includes, Quebec, Montreal, Port William, Kenora, Winnipeg, Edmonton, Calgary, Banff, Lake Louise, Vancouver, Victoria, Regina, Saskatoon, Sudbury, Toronto, Ottawa, Fredericton, Saint John, Bishop and Halifax, and ends at Quebec where the party embarks for Southampton in the Empress of Britain, October 25th.

Toyne, Education Officer for Brighton; W. A. Brockington, C.M.E., Director of Education for Leicestershire; J. A. Pearl, Director of Education for Winchester; Dr. J. L. FOODS AND BEAUTY

I am often asked what I consider the most important food element from the standpoint of beauty, and although this question cannot be answered off-hand I do believe that one of the most necessary, if not the most important food element to promote and preserve good looks, is proper roughage.

The coarser vegetables, such as cabbage, spinach, onions, carrots, celery, broccoli, and lettuce are essential in the diet if the skin is to be clear smooth, unlined and youthful. Whole wheat bread, gluten and rye are bulky and therefore should be on the diet list of those who want beauty.

Here is a recipe for muffins
for health and beauty-building
BRAN MUFFINS

Melt two tablespoons of short ening, add one beaten egg, one cup milk, one tablespoon sugar,
two teaspoons baking powder
two cups bran flour. Beat until smooth. Add one half cup of raisins just before pouring into buttered muffin tins. Bake 20 minutes in a modern oven.

Serve, with the muffins,
"Gold and White Salad." For this peel and core tart apples, cut in small pieces and pile on crisp lettuce leaves. Sprinkle with grated raw carrot and serve with French dressing.

I will tell you of a way to avoid the difficulty of preparing two different menus if you are reducing, while your husband or some other member of the family is trying to gain weight.
For instance use foods that can serve both purposes. If you are serving stuffed tomato, don't use fattening dressing in your own stuffing. Vegetables are always good and quantities can be used for the reducing diet. Serve lean meats, and a good combination with these is cucumbers and green peppers
while the family takes potatoes and corn. Or serve asparagus with drawn butter sauce for the others, and the same vegetable, with mineral oil dressing, for yourself.

If your skin is sallow it must have its special diet through a pasteurized bleaching cream which will serve the purpose of cleansing and lighten-ing the skin tone at the same time. There are double purpose creams just as there are double purpose foods.

nurmacher, special correspondent of American Druggist Magazine, said on his arrival from Calro today. He made a study of the use of drugs in savage
and civilized warfare in Ethiopia, Tunis and the Tiff. The detailed story of his findings will appear in the September issue of the magazine.

"At Djibouti, French Somaliland, the railroad where we embarked for Addis Abba, the French engineers described the custom of chewing kat, a native herb, which sends it users into a frenzy of action," Mr. Schnur-macher said. "Frequently, they told us, tribesmen have chewed kat and then charged an oncoming locomotive with a spear and rhinos-skin shield. Kat is rationed to native soldiers on campaign.

"The hakim, or native medicine man, constitutes a threat dreaded by every European in-vader. He is an expert wellpoisoner. Algeria, Tunisia and Morocco were not really won until French and Spanish legionnaires threw troops around every oasis in the invaded territory and guarded it vigilantly.

"The French, seasoned campaigners, observed every sanitary precaution and by liberal use of modern drugs, antitoxins and vaccines, came through with a minimum of disease fatalities. The Spanish were more careless in their Riff campaign. As a result more of them came down with tropical sickness than were killed by Riffian bullets or knives."

Mr. Schnurmacher listed dysentery, malarial mosquitoes and the tropical sun as the three great health hazards Italian troops will face in attacking Ethiopia. He added that every European army which has invaded Africa has brought back disease to Europe and warned of the danger to western civilization of a major epidemic which might result from an Ethiopian war.

Well folks, It's October, and 1935 will soon be all gone. It has been a good year, and has seen considerable improvement in many ways.

Bill Day of Cooking is so sure he won't get any basic dividends within two years he has offered to bet his eight inch beard against it and will shave if off if he does providing the taker of his bet will let his beard grow for the remainder of Premier Aberhart's term of office if he doesn't. So far he has had no takers.

INQUEST INTO DEATH OF LELAND NALDER

Sitting under Dr. J. E. Loveing a jury composed of E.S.
Hawk, foreman, W. C. Stone,
W. D. Mendenhall, Loren Larson
Owen King Jr., and S. I. May, were empanelled to inquire into the circumstances connected with the accidental death of Leland Nalder, who was killed
at the Factory this morning, returned a verdict of death by accident, without attaching any blame to anyone individual or the Company. A rider carried a suggestion or two which might avoid further occurrences from this source, but which was not negligence in the present case.

The body was removed to Lethbridge after the inquest for preparation for burial.

Mrs. Ella K. Milner left Friday morning for a short visit with her two sons in Livingston Montana, and the remainder of the winter with her daughter Mrs. Ella Bennett in Salt Lake City Utah.

Clashes between soldiers of Italy and Ethiopia resulted in 1700 casualties on Thursday, and airplane raids and artillery bombardments were expected to bring the list considerably higher.
